Dear Editor,

I am a resident of Wyckoff writing to express my concern about the housing development proposed for the upper part of Deep Voll Ravine. The variances requested for this development should be denied. Furthermore, the Wyckoff Planning Board should live up to the promises made for preservation of open space in its Master Plan and pursue the use of county and state funding to purchase and preserve open space in our Township. In a few short years, there will be no space left to save. Because of its zoning, environmental importance, and great beauty, the Deep Voll Ravine is an ideal candidate for purchase.

Why is Wyckoff so far behind neighboring towns such as Franklin Lakes and Oakland in using county and state funding to purchase of open space? There is a great need for leadership from the Township Committee and the Planning Board on this issue.

Sincerely,

Patricia Pisacane
